

Site Map > Our Story > Explore the festival > Governance & Policies > Accessibility statement

Accessibility statement

This website is designed with the aim of providing an accessible experience to as wide an audience as possible and we are committed to complying with the European Union (Accessibility of Websites and Mobile Applications of Public Sector Bodies) Regulations 2020.

Wexford Festival Opera is committed to:

- maintaining an accessible website
- ensuring that this website achieves “Level AA” of the Web Content Accessibility Guidelines \(WCAG\) 2.0 [link to <https://www.w3.org/TR/WCAG20/>]
- ensuring that all added information on the website will achieve “Level AA” conformance to the Web Content Accessibility Guidelines (WCAG) 2.0
- including accessibility when we procure third-party systems or upgrades to existing systems

Current visitors can:

- listen to most of the website using a screen reader
- navigate most of the website using just a keyboard
- adjust contrast settings using a browser contrast extension or adjusting your browser settings
- zoom in up to 300% without the text falling off the screen
- control the size of the website text via their website browser (to increase the page size, press Control or Command and +, to decrease the page size, press Control or Command and -, to reset the page size, press Control or Command and 0)

We are taking the below steps to increase the accessibility of the content we post on this website:

- including close captioning on embedded videos
- including text description on images
- including descriptive hyperlinks where hyperlinks are used

We are continually working to improve the accessibility of our website for all visitors. If you have any issues with the accessibility of this website or would like to discuss specific requirements, we can consider in future, please do contact us via the below channels:

Email: digitalmedia@wexfordopera.com

Phone: + 353 53 912 2400

Post: Wexford Festival Opera, The National Opera House,
High St, Wexford, Y35 FEP3, Ireland.

This statement was created in February 2022 and was last update on 22 February 2022.